of the purse of the chief of detectives, said purse causing said chief much worry and several hours spent at his chosen vocation. Incidentally, there are several side issues involved in the matter, and, although the chief did not find his purse, the search for it led to several evildoers, who were duly book ed at the police station,

A Japanese came to him on Tuesday ifternoon and told him that he had loated his wife, who, it seems, had run way from him some two years ago McDuffic called for an auto and went to I arl City to make inquiries. He found the wife as per statement of the sorrowing husband, but as she had neglected the little detail of divorce and ad contracted another marriage, the hief pinched both herself and her second husband, and they were fined $20 and $20, respectively, in police court yesterday morning.

The chief returned home about two clock yesterday morning, and while bout to retire noticed that his purse intaining $80, was missing. Think ng that $80 was a sum worth looking or, he returned to his office in the police station and searched around, but could not find it, and then railed for the auto that he had gone to Pearl City in. The auto was searched also, out did not reveal the eash.

Previous to this he had come up in a sack, and while near King street on River heard a pane of glass smash. Peeking out of the back, he saw a sailor sneaking down the street. The shief got out of the back and laid in wait around the corner to receive him in his arms. Down at the station the man, who was held for investigation, and who belongs to one of the vessels of the fleet, gave his name as W. P.

After running the man in, McDuffie resumed his search for his purse, and, failing to find it in the room or auto. again went to Pearl City. He had remembered setting over a fence in a certain place and thought that it might have been there that he had lost it, but he did not find it. He called for the hack that he had gone around in at Pearl City and searched through that, but he again failed to connect. Then he gave it up and went home.

When he got down yesterday mornng, after just an hour and a half's sep, a trusty handed him the purse, which he had picked up beneath the He gave the trusty tive dollars and he paid ten dollars for the auto to return to Pearl City, which leaves him with just $65.
